HOME BREW CONTEST:

Bring your favorite homebrew project to the Hamfest and compete for prizes. Your project should in some way pertain to Ham Radio, and you may enter as many projects as you wish. However, only the project with the highest score will be eligible to compete for prizes. All projects will be judged on originality, creativity, craftsmanship, documentation and safety. Entries should not be a kit, but may be from a book or magazine article. It can also be a card, such as a sstv card for a computer. All entries must have documentation, including an overview of the project and schematics. Judging and prize announcements will be made during the Sunday afternoon program. Just bring your project(s) to the area labeled "Homebrew Contest" where it will be displayed during the Hamfest. RCA Amateur Radio club, Thomson Consumer Electronics will award a plaque to the first place winner.

FLEA MARKET:

Over 74,000 square feet of area for flea market vendors is under roof. Flea market set-up may begin at 4:00 PM Local on Friday, July 9. Admission ticket and Check-in at the flea market registration desk required before setting up. Outdoor spaces are available on a first come, first served basis and no reservations are needed.
